President's Message

THE PASSING YEARS have confirmed two convictions: that a good physical plant is an important convenience, for it will attract the varied types of personnel required to insure an advancing institution; that a college like ours resembles in many broad respects some of the characteristics of a home, for while it is relatively easy to build a house, a home within is never finished.

During the past twenty-five years of my association with the Medical College of Virginia, many hands have labored to bring us where we are today, with good buildings, good students, good teaching, good research, good care of the sick, but we cannot rest here. Our facilities and our functions both must be improved.

First, certain additional needs must be met, some of them forthwith: another nurses' residence, new dental school building, a gymnasium, a large housing project for single and married students and faculty personnel, allied hospitals in the specialized fields—eye, ear, nose and throat, tuberculosis, chronic diseases, and others, more research resources and research work, better teaching and learning, ever better care of patients, keener awareness of public needs, a program of outreaching service to other hospitals and communities wherever requested, enlarged opportunities for continued growth in practice, including a building to house a program of postgraduate or continuation studies. And even then there will be unmet needs, responsibility for which new leaders must be found among alumni and others. The classes of 1950 are here challenged to consider what their part in the next twenty-five years is to be.

My best wishes to each of you.

Sincerely yours,

W. T. SANGER,
President.
THE GRADUATION of the present classes marks fifty years of progress in the healing arts—a half century of achievement that is yet the beginning.

We are proud of the high standards set for us by our predecessors. Our profession must make progress to keep the incidence of suffering and disease on the decline.

Our plans for the future can be fulfilled only with the freedom that has made the past so great. We hope and pray our system, believed the finest in the world, will be allowed to improve rather than revert to methods proved impractical and costly in other countries.

Unhampered, we will go forward in educating, healing, and discovering—using the very elements of democratic life that have molded our land from the wilderness. Thus with the beacon light of the past to guide our future we will strive to bring greater benefits to all people.

FOR THE KINDNESS, FRIENDSHIP AND GUIDANCE YOU HAVE GIVEN US
THE PAST FOUR YEARS, AND FOR THE UNENDING SERVICE OF THE PAST TWENTY-FIVE YEARS YOU HAVE RENDERED IN MAKING OUR ALMA MATER A CENTER OF RESEARCH AND ACHIEVEMENT, WE DEDICATE THIS SECTION OF OUR "X-RAY" TO YOU:

RESPECTFULLY AND DEVOTEDLY,

THE CLASS OF 1957...
The True Physician

By JOSEPH AUSLANDER

Who is the true physician? He
Who feels a sense of ministry;
Who knows our ills are intertwined
With tentacles of heart and mind;
Who knows that man is truly whole
Only when body rhymes with soul;
That the world's sickness will not cease
Till man is with himself at peace.

Who is the true physician? He
Who from despair and fear sets free
Vexed spirit and tormented flesh
Struggling together in the mesh
Of human passions. Undismayed,
He takes the challenge on him laid,
And from facts cruel and uncouth
Creates the cold pure terms of truth.

Physician, you it is to whom
Man's body is a treacherous room
Where day and night and breath by breath
You face infirmity and death,
Confront the furies that by stealth
Slip past the sentinels of health,
And, with no quarter asked or given,
Strive as your gallant dead have striven
To win new ground, and to attain
Some desperate reprieve from pain,
To fight the valiant fight until
Your faith, your sacrifice, your skill
At first confound, at last confirm Man's conquest of the Conqueror Worm.

This, true physician, is your story,
Stripped of the accidents of glory,
Beyond all title, all esteem,
Servant of a tremendous dream:
To give man back his right to be
The master of his destiny,
To rescue from the mortal clod
The bright immortal son of God.

CLASS HISTORY

WITH THE AID of a great number of obstetricians, pediatricians, and baby-sitters, to say nothing of almost fourscore wives and half a hundred progeny, the Class of 1950 has gotten that much-dreamed-of "sheepskin." This diploma is a milestone in our careers, but wait, beyond is the cold, cruel world with no more GI checks or parental benevolence, but who are we to worry, we can face the world unafraid with our one "acquired" green syringe.

Our developmental age ranges from the "chillun," whose anterior fontanelles are not yet closed, to the fellows who just discovered that half the people in the world are women, on to the majority of us whose average is thirty, waistlines forty-four, and with a startling incidence of alopecia totalis.

From the beginning of the year our professional dignity was enhanced by the addition of white trousers and the casual question, "Where are you going to intern?" All dispositions were improved by the return to nine o'clock classes, a month of elective, and the psychiatry service; but came the bitter with the sweet: Saturdays in the Pit, beaoup CBC's, twenty-four-hour stats, and blood pressure a fifteen minutes.

It wasn't easy, but we covered everything from Ayerza's Disease through periarteritis nodosum to xanthomatosis. We did strike out, however, on a few of the more common maladies—remember phlegmonous gastritis and Letterer Siwe's Disease?

The Home Care Service, which was introduced this year, was designed to give us a glimpse into General Practice of Medicine and was thoroughly enjoyed by all as the majority of us intend to be G. P.'s. What a Utopia! Where else could you get two "city doctors" to call on you for free?

Our history has been written; the physical examination concluded; we at last come to our prognosis. To borrow a few famous phrases we can say, "I'm not at all certain," but "I, myself, feel t is excellent." What do you think? You're the Doctor!

SEPTEMBER saw the Juniors scurrying to and fro in white, new, immaculate jackets and coats decorated with dangling stethoscopes, shining new flash-lights, percussion hammers, and the so-called black "Pearl Book" (a must for every Junior). One might even see a tourniquet, fountain pen, four-way color pencil, and not infrequently, an ophthalmoscope. This latter instrument serving to identify the clinical neophyte with his service, ophthalmology.

While on one hand, the gyn tyro gave himself away with his insistence on shaking hands with the index and adjacent fingers pressed together, the OB novice, on the other hand, was simply identified by observing his tired and haggard but sleepy face, this serving to indicate that the night before had been spent on OB-stat at St. Philip's. One should rule out mere sleeplessness which was present on most everyone's face due to the 8:00 o'clock classes.

This was the first of our clinical years and one which we all had looked forward to with great interest.

Dr. Schelin's "Half a pound per week and twenty pounds for the entire pregnancy," seemed particularly applicable for West Virginia students, but as a good measure, one could toss in "no bags, boogies or Braxton Hick's maneuver".

The strain of a possible Surgery "Pop" Quiz got to be quite a load but the storm finally broke just before Christmas. Dr. Bigger was certain but we were uncertain.

The usual problem of settling exam dates and twisting the Professor's arm was handled admirably by our Class President, Bob Phillips.

Dr. Mandeville's colorful teaching and illustrative problems in radiology, supported by his "needling of the boys in surgery and pathology," were par excellence. We certainly will take his advice, because who wants to lose his swimming pool, penthouse, and Cadillac? Not us—if and when we get them!

The avalanche descends in June. May we all be able to meet successfully for the final year next September as dignified Seniors.

CLASS HISTORY

"TWO DOWN AND TWO TO GO"—that is the slogan of the Class of '52 at the present time. It doesn't seem like two years has passed since we started out on our "dead subjects" in anatomy, does it? We are progressing: This year our subjects really breathed—even when we got through examining them—just give us time and "patients" and we will make the grade.

We started in with physiology in September, and one great accomplishment in this class was in keeping Goode quiet by feeding him a stomach tube. Then Dr. Haag got him in pharmacology and tried to make him talk every day—poor Goode, right or wrong, he got his "dose".

Remember how we paid in "blood" for the first clinical path test—and how Shirley kept calling one of the slides "Leukocytosis" (swing to the right)? There are many new diagnoses on record here since our class hit M.C.V. that were never heard of before.

None of us could forget how "foreign" that "foreign body reaction" slide looked in pathology. Dr. Apperly really gave us wonderful lectures and his sense of humor brightened up many dull hours for us. How about all the specimens he showed us in the museum? We always developed symptoms of every pathological condition he demonstrated to us.

This has been a good year for us despite the many hard hours of study and work...as for me, it has been quite a "thrill".

CLASS HISTORY

The Admissions' Committee reached half-way around the world in filling the ranks of the Freshman Class in Medicine this year. Fifty-five of us are veterans, and every foreign theater of operations has its representative. Twenty-one per cent of the class is married. An accurate count of the "offspring" was never attempted.

We've had a grand year and are happy that Lloyds, of London, can now decrease the premium rate on the survival of our class constituents. From the very beginning, back on that September day in 1949, we've had nothing but kindness, patience, and good instruction and all the assistance possible. We are confident that within all of us lies the ability to become good doctors. With the continued help from our instructors, we look forward with great expectations to the accomplishments of our class.

CLASS HISTORY

Upon a note of joyful despondency we have reached the ultimate goal of our tenure in the Dental School. For four long work-laden years we have struggled as one, with the bonds of friendship being drawn ever closer. Only a few minor mishaps to mar our familial relationship, but, what the heck, disagreements occur in the best of families!

In retrospect we see ourselves entering the Freshman lab for oral anatomy and prosthetics, neither pleasing ourselves nor the profs with our efforts. That long haul to gross anatomy with "Old Brash" giving us words of wisdom and the works! Enzymes and amino acids in Sid and Molly's Emporium got us through biochemistry; none of us ever knew what hit us through bacteriology.

As we ascended into the Sophomore lab, we felt as though we were well on our way to the goal. Dusting technique, partial dentures, inlays and crowns—just like being in the Clinic! That is, almost! We were to learn that it is a far cry from green teeth in a dentiform to what-have-you-teeth in a patient.

The clinic, patients, services and Dr. Coyl! All of these thrust upon us as mere Juniors. But we soon were to know that after the initial fright, none of these were too bad, and that in reality, the Whip was a pretty good Joe after all. Hygroscopic investment replaced (?) Gray's, foils for all silicates, and prophylaxes given beneath the rubber dam! What a life! The dungeon for our lab, the "pruf" of the pudding per se, root canals, and The Cowboy. And despite this we became Seniors.

It was as Seniors that we first began to grasp the meaning of the whole maze, and then the "C" rule was abandoned placing us back in a dilemma again. Talk of infant formulae (by our many lucky fathers of the class), locked-in for life by our Sweeney's, phenol swabs, office plans, lab time, periodontal checks, instructors smoking in the museum, war surplus supplies, ad infinitum, all were our topics of conversation and gripes. And how about those abutment teeth that were inadvertently extracted?

Lest we forget it was in our Senior year that occurred the loss of a friend in whose Bible we had caused many a sad story to be written.

Whatever the future may hold—poverty or wealth, sorrow or happiness—we have one thing in common: our days together at M.C.V. Let us treasure them, for these days were good.

CLASS HISTORY

THE doors we passed for two years with only a sneak-look we were now to be opened. The Clinic, with all its mysteries, was now a part of our schedule. Our dentoforms, which had patiently withstood the lacerations of chisels and burs, were now to have people attached to the other end.

With greenish tints to our white Clinic coats we entered this room of 500 chairs, and were introduced immediately to the rubber dam. It took us a very short time to realize that the word had been misspelled. Later we entered dental floss and rubber dam clamps on the instrument list for a gingivectomy—the technique varied slightly but the end results were the same. We became the "people" attached to the dentoforms, and lacerations abounded after the first session in the debridement technique.

The chart, that essential item, was explained. Such a simple device—a sheet for each department so there would be no confusion—confusion prevailed. In spite of it all—blue slips, green slips, white slips, and X-Rays—a questionable degree of regularity was attained, only to be halted by: "I'm sorry, that chart is in the drawer."

We were introduced to the services: X-Ray, prosthetics, diagnosis, and exodontia. We learned to administer anaesthetic. A few of us extracted teeth—even though the patient was handcuffed.

We constructed bridges using the crowns made the preceding year. The chief complaint was explained and just what relationship it had to the present illness. Ping pong was exposed in a new light.

Oral pathology was found to consist of more than dental caries. New conditions and clinical pictures were opened to us. We saw that under-fed and over-danced young ladies had significant X-ray findings—though not pathogenic.

So we continue, the ever-decreasing line of bachelors reduced to eleven and no sign of that figure becoming static. The Heely's increased our family by one, now we are wondering about that casting furnace near the head of the alphabet. Hutch and Russell are still swearing that they are the babies of the class.

We wish to extend a word of appreciation to the staff of instructors, who have contributed time and patience and a helping hand throughout our first year in the Clinic, without whom we would be as helpless as the Mighty Mo.

CLASS HISTORY

FORTY-SIX "Eager Beavers" rushed into the Sophomore laboratory that early September morn to demonstrate to the professors the abilities of the Class of '52. It wasn't long before smiles turned to frowns and the cry, "Hey, Bill, pass the iodine," rang through the laboratory. To the theme song, "Do It Over Again," we slowly learned the art of making wax patterns, castings, cavity preparations and crowns.

Speaking of clowns, you should see the new hat one of our members bought. We had been wishing he would get a new hat; but what a change!

Many hours were spent over the 'scopes learning to identify diseased tissue. It was surprising how things had changed since histology. Towards the end of our course in physiology we learned how to insert a cannula.

All of our members became more interested in the course when we heard that one member of our class was putting his knowledge to practical use. The only trouble was you needed three white rats under twenty-one days' old to run the test.

There was a fellow student who had trouble getting to class on time. One day he appeared early for a pharmacology lecture, but he left the room saying he couldn't stand to be on time, and that he would come in later.

We move forward knowing the difference between fun and work, as told to us by one of our able professors. We hope our first dentures will fit and that we shall perform our duties in the Clinic as becoming members of the School of Dentistry.

CLASS HISTORY

LIKE a new pack of Bicycles—Congress to the elite—fifty-two Freshmen, stiff with wonder and shining with pride, were shuffled, neatly stacked, and dealt upon a table of bewildering perplexity. There were no jokers in this deck. They were all cards.

It was early autumn—hot and humid. A perfect setting for mental mayhem, Orientation, Instruction, Convocation, Pro-vocation. Ten hours of placement tests. A hundred pieces of new equipment: hammer, pliers, roach carver, impression compound, base-plate wax, scalpel, urrp! Swallow again, you'll need that too.

With all their heartaches and broken backs, financial gloom, and eyes filled with soot from burning midnight oil, the Freshmen "Dents" struggled valiantly through the trauma of their kinetic initiation into dental school. The boys of D-1—probably called DOG-1 in the Navy—began to settle down to smooth sailing with the attitude of, "Maybe I can do it after all!"

Gross anatomy lab ruined a few meals for some but by the time the World Series came around these true American boys couldn't bear Dr. Brashear's inning-by-inning account without their cokes and peanuts. By quarter's end it was not uncommon for a fellow to palpate with one hand while munching his after-lunch ice cream with the other.

Class elections, intramural basketball, and week-end frolics through the courtesies of the Delta Sig's and Psi O's began to enliven the activities of our gallant knights. An enthusiasm for working together began to be expressed with the first class meeting in October. The concern of this meeting was over many potential failures in their new mystery course—bacteriology.

The winter quarter brought biochemistry, denture prosthesis, head and neck, and Christmas. Dr. Negus succeeded in his objective to confuse the students with bio. The class entered prosthesis confused and left Dr. Gibbons bewildered. Dr. Brashear, with head and neck, showed what a hard life a dentist could have. Christmas brought its own fortunes including the marriages of Class President Tom Warrick, and Ed Irish. D. W. Fawley had started the rage for marriage during the fall and Ray Ernest finally caught the bug to become a "yes" man in January.

Winter waited for spring but dental students had no time for seasons. The golfer teed off, regardless. Spring dances and free Saturdays made life joyous as long as Swanson's Complete Dentures was on the shelf. Dr. Burke's red-face jokes made histology bearable while Dr. Caroon began to diminish home work carving assignments. There was also the return of Dr. Modjeski with his dentist materials. Dr. Duncan continued to bark on his "dog teeth."

With a sigh of soothing relief, the fifty-two "cards" put away their tools and teeth in May to answer the call of the wild goose for a summer. As Oliver Wendell (Holmes) Clough might say:

New places, new faces,
You're off—way to blazing!

CLASS HISTORY

It is well for anyone who has just terminated a major chapter of his life to pause for awhile before advancing onward to the next endeavor, to pause and think of the significance of his past actions. By so doing he is reminded of incidents that have delighted, benefited, and irritated him, and realizes that they can never be lived again. Each member of this class, when remembering his years associated with the School of Pharmacy, will recall incidents that are meaningful to him only, but there is much that we all share. We have had happy moments together, worked hard, and at times been uncertain.

Our class actually gained its identity when students from various institutions joined together to form the Sophomore Class of 1947-48. The courses were not easy. We were required to study and perform in an exact, efficient manner. We had much to learn, but we applied ourselves diligently, and our instructors were both teacher and friend. Soon everyone became a personality.

This class was unique to begin with. It was composed largely of veterans, fresh from World War II, who had earned the right and were anxious to complete their education. A more mature group than those of normal times characterized it. Its members have displayed aggressive and capable leadership, originality, and exceptional ability. Various school organizations have been strengthened and have profited because of the activity of these members. The class as a unit has been co-operative, conscientious, and promising. It has shown great interest in the profession of pharmacy and for pharmacy's future. Through the years as students, the class members kept abreast of advancements and problems in the field of our profession, and are thus better qualified to enter the profession.

This, our Senior year, has been most swift. Pleasant interruptions in the routine of daily school life have been frequent. We've had many social functions to attend, a trip to supplement our education, and cigars to smoke from new fathers. We've seen the younger men and women of the class develop into fine individuals. Always in the subconscious mind was the thought of graduation and that which follows, for we will have then earned the privilege to work. The Senior year is the best year.

We leave the School of Pharmacy knowing that our instructors have equipped us as best they could for the years to come. The rest is up to us. Although many of the events of school will be forgotten in the busy task of living, let us not allow our friendships to die. And let us do our utmost to bring honor to the Profession, the School, the Class of 1950, and ourselves.

CLASS HISTORY

THREE years ago we were Freshmen, sixty of us, coming from all parts of the State to enter the School of Pharmacy. We were uneasy and anxious. However, these emotions were soon replaced by hard work, confusion, and more hard work. We struggled with chemistry, biology, and other subjects which are familiar to all Freshmen. We came through it all right though—or, rather, most of us did.

So we moved on to the second of the four years. We soon became used to being called Sophomores, and to answering to that name. The transfers who came stepped right into the places of those who had dropped out. The strange faces soon became familiar and we worked together as a class with our problems of analytical balances, cat anatomies, and \( S = \frac{1}{2} \text{ at } 2 \). We lasted through that Sophomore year although many of us had doubted that we would.

At the beginning of our Junior year the thought that made us happiest was often expressed aloud: "Only one more year!" but at times that year has seemed remote and unattainable. While involved with rosettes, hot water bottles, and incompatibilities we thought we would never be successful in our efforts to understand and be understood.

The trip we took with the Seniors to Indianapolis did much to strengthen our morale and determination. It was fun and educational. Who would have even thought that these words could apply to the same subject?

Throughout the whole year things must not have been as hopeless as we had imagined them to be, because we are still together and preparing ourselves to face that "one last year."

Cross your fingers, everybody!

CLASS HISTORY

Upon our return to M.C.V. in September, 1949, we found that eighteen of the familiar faces we had known were no longer with us. However, there were twenty new faces in our class, thus making a total of sixty-two.

As we look back and recall the struggles we had all through our Sophomore year, we cannot help but remember the “lighter side” also.

A brief review of the year’s happenings brings forth memories of:

As we end our Sophomore year, with these memories and many others, we are looking forward to our next two(?) years at M.C.V.

CLASS HISTORY

Our college days at M.C.V. began on September 6th. Many a heart swelled with pride when we entered the doors of McGuire Hall for the first time.

From the first day in class we all felt as though we had known each other all our lives. Yes, we knew then what good friends we would all become. The proof of this was shown in the enthusiasm we shared at a party on Dr. Hughes’ farm.

This class history would be incomplete without the mention of Dr. Hug - hes and RAl, who frequently confuse each other’s name. It is almost a legend of Prof. Pitts walking into class, laying down his cigar or pipe to pick it up again and light it whenever the lecture has ended. Neither should we forget Dr. Neurath and his “Factors Involved”.

Now that our task for the first year has come to an end we look back and cherish the fond memories of Shias, the S.U.B., and all the other school functions. We are going to take advantage of a needed vacation and return, in the fall, looking forward to our next three years.

When we graduate we hope to make the “Class of ’53” the pride of the School of Pharmacy.

CLASS HISTORY

"So nigh is grandeur to our dust,
So near is God to man;
When Duty whispers low, 'Thou must',
The youth replies, 'I can'."

 THESE past years have not seemed long. Each of us has been discouraged because good things come slowly. We have tried to do daily that good which lies at hand, to be diligent and patient in our studies and work.

Our interests in the special services have enabled us to decide in which field we can offer a larger sphere of usefulness and in which our interests are unswerving.

With sincere appreciation and respect we would like to thank each individual who has skillfully guided us during our training period.

"The vision of the ideal guards monotony of work from becoming monotony of life."

Class History

As we came to our Junior year we suddenly realized that we were halfway through our training period and wondered how time could fly by so quickly.

We pause for a few moments to reminisce:
Remember relief and night duty? As if we could forget! We were important then.

Our sponsor, Miss Friend, whose very presence brought life into all of us.

The constant race with the clock, bath on and off duty, repeated warnings from exasperated housemothers about coming in on time—oh, to be a graduate!

Books opened, but ignored, as bull sessions lasted until all hours. The Cabaniss Hall "grape-vine," which overworked itself at times—discussions about men, patients, and other world-shaking topics—one such session followed by another in the Dean's office.

All the parties we had, most of them informal, then there were the "get-togethers" at the skating rink, the B.S.U. picnic, the capping party for the Pre-Clins, and, of course, at the dances.

Trips to the library, which usually terminated at the "Skull," bridge or ping-pong at the Student Union.

New students arriving in September and February . . . dire predictions from upper-classmen about how long they would stay . . . getting the usual once-over and big rush from the boys.

The "gathering of the clan" at all hours in Bettee's room . . . release from long hours of duty found in water battles—juvenile but such fun. "E-day" with a knack for pleasing everyone . . . Ramona with the contagious giggle . . . Jenny keeping busy with her "Nursing Notes," basketball, and top grades . . . Lorraine wishing that West Point wasn't so far away . . . Joanne planning a June wedding . . . Jackie making frequent trips to Davidson . . . Iris, who is undoubtedly the only one who has never thought of quitting . . . Lee and Carlos, one seldom seen without the other . . . those wonderful spaghetti suppers at Bev's home . . . tall and queenly Pat Lowe reigning as "Miss Holly" . . . Loretta and Faith in O.R. searching vainly for those tubes . . . "Virgie," Bobbie, and Mary, the "Inseparables" . . . Jane and June with those southern draws . . . Bev's and her wonderful musical ability.

Complaints about the food, classes, and hours . . . the inevitable six o'clock alarm—just a few more winks . . . yet something odd binds us to M.C.V. . . . we'd probably still gripe if we had it to do over again though.

All in all it's been a good year, and although we've had our ups and downs, we are looking forward to getting those black bands.

CLASS HISTORY

SO we were Pre-Clins, or it shouldn’t happen to a cadaver.

It started off good at least. At first we stayed awake all night and all day, at night to study and during the day to go to classes. Then we slept all night and all day too—even if we didn’t progress the classes did.

The night of capping arrived. Some classes marched down the aisle, but we dragged down—you see we had worked “straight” that day. Some Pre-Clins have cried or laughed over receiving their caps, but we howled (our class song “My Task”). After waiting six long, blood-filled, bed-pan-passing, brown bottle-washing months we still couldn’t wear those caps, for a month’s vacation followed that night.

Then came medications and hypo’s, and, as always, was accompanied by relief. At first we loved relief, but after a while—do you think we always looked like warmed-over death?

Definition of night duty: Scrub and clean everything, q 3 h penicillins, admit two or three neuro patients q night, and dozens of broken flashlights, not to mention the numerous accident reports.

Although we don’t know what our Junior year and the future holds in store for us we know that what we have learned will be doubled, plus the achieving of a certain maturity of mind, as we thus look forward to our Junior year.

THE Physical Therapy School of the Baruch Center of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, Medical College of Virginia, was established in 1945. This is a twelve months' course which begins in September, and the curriculum includes the basic sciences (Physics, anatomy, physiology and pathology), medical and surgical lectures, technical subjects, and clinical practice. The school is approved by the American Medical Association and the minimum requirements for admission are those set up by the Council on Medical Education and Hospitals of the A.M.A.

Ours is one of the largest physical therapy schools in the United States, and serves more than the Commonwealth of Virginia. At the present time we are represented by almost every state in this country, and we have previously had students from various parts of the world.

Since our school began we have trained 206 students. Our doors were opened to men for the first time in September, 1947, and their number has been steadily increasing. This year's class of fifty-two members has a fifty-fifty representation.

The Physical Therapist gives treatments prescribed by the physician, using such agents as heat, light, water, electricity and massage. Physical therapy is important in the total rehabilitation of the disabled, and increasing attention is being given to remedial exercise, convalescent training and the acquisition of the skills necessary for daily living.

The Medical College of Virginia is particularly proud to report that our student membership is 100 per cent in our national organization, the American Physical Therapy Association.

The Public Health Nursing program of study, which requires twelve months for completion, is a major for the B.S. Degree in Nursing Education. This program, accredited by the National Organization for Public Health Nursing, prepares well qualified graduate nurses for staff position with public health agencies in both urban and rural areas. These nurses function in the home, the clinic, the school and in industries. Their chief objective is health education, however they also care for the sick in the home on a visit basis. Whether their emphasis is prevention of disease or caring for the ill patient they always function under the supervision of a physician.

In addition to graduation from an approved school of nursing, and the completion of the public health nursing program of study, it usually requires two years of specified academic work to be eligible for the B.S. Degree in Nursing Education.
MEDICAL TECHNICIANS

Sitting: Helen Chan, Jean Tabor, Constance Weeks, Katherine Mathews, Rose Peluso.

Standing: Elizabeth Matthews, Claudia Lucas, Wanda Grubb, Diane Games, Patricia Eagan.

ALTHOUGH there have been student technicians at M.C.V. for many years, the School of Medical Technology has been a really organized school for the last three years.

A sixteen months' course, accredited by the Registry of Medical Technologists is offered, and is designed to equip the student for general hospital laboratory service. Among the services included are: clinical pathology, hematology, bacteriology, serology, biochemistry, histological technique, E.K.G., B.M.R., and blood bank.

At the termination of the course students are eligible for the registration examination of the American Society of Clinical Pathologists.

In the modern practice of medicine the technician is becoming increasingly more important as evidenced by the number of laboratory tests requested by physicians. Quite often a complex diagnostic problem may be solved with the aid of a relatively simple laboratory procedure.

THE Department of Radiology offers a twelve months' practical apprenticeship in x-ray technic and therapy to a selected number of young women graduates of accredited high schools. The course includes: x-ray physics, technic, anatomy, physiology, filing, management and ethics applicable to a general department of radiology. Certain students are invited to spend a second year in the department in preparation for the examinations of the American Registry of X-Ray Technicians and the designation of R.T. (Registered Technician).
THE Medical College of Virginia Hospital offers a one-year course in hospital dietetics to young women who have a B.S. Degree from an accredited college or university and who can meet certain specific course requirements. The course is approved by the American Dietetic Association, and upon completion, interns are eligible for membership in the Association and may hold positions in Class "A" hospitals in the capacity of administrative, therapeutic, clinic, or teaching dietetician.

At present the Department is able to accept only twelve qualified applicants. Training is begun in September of each year, and students are housed in the John B. Newton House, one of the college dormitories. During training, students receive 113 hours of lecture work, as well as practical experience in the various units. Instruction is given under the supervision of graduate dietitians in the Department of Dietetics.

Upon satisfactory completion of the course, dietetic interns are granted a certificate from the Hospital Division, and are eligible for membership in the Medical College of Virginia Alumni Association.
THIS year has seen a dramatic demonstration of the initiative and incentive of the Student Body of the Medical College of Virginia. As proposed by the Executive Committee a year ago, the Constitution was revised to provide equal rights to all of the schools and per capita representation from the schools to a Student Council.

The Constitution was designed to conform to the best interests of the Student Body, and its purpose of organization is perhaps best stated in its preamble: "In order that all members of the Student Body may participate equally in all affairs of the college, enjoy all rights and privileges on an equal basis, and to promote the better integration of the affairs of the student organizations of the Medical College of Virginia, we, the members of said Student Body, pursuant to authority conferred, do ordain and establish this Constitution."

With each of us lies the challenge of carrying out these ideals and of contributing our best to the student life at M.C.V. in such a manner that we may attain those things which go toward making the Medical College of Virginia greater in every way. May this ever be our aim, and may the forthcoming classes of future years help us in our responsibility of furthering the purposes and future of M.C.V.

Half-Century Beginnings

Starting your career as the half-century begins the second revolution of its orbit affords an opportunity to observe the usual "looking backward", in retrospect, generally indulged in by those who would review the road which has been traveled, as a means of recounting the progress made during the preceding half-century. Blessings, opportunities and advantages, unconsciously taken for granted during your period of training, will be flashed in print as a reminder that the advances were made over exactly the sort of struggle, search, experience, experiment, trial-and-error road upon which you are embarking and back over which you, too, will look when your half-century of practice will have reached the "turn of the century".

Your training period has abounded with products of the advances of the past fifty years, in techniques, drugs, instruments, sources of information, scientific developments which have made more readily recognizable types of disease, causes thereof and the methods and means of combating their spread or harmful effects.

Yours, then, is at once a tremendous responsibility and a challenge, to "carry on", as your contemporaries before you, using your knowledge, your training and your ability to chalk up a 100 per cent score when, as the century turns over the page to "3,000" and the indulgers in retrospect again check the score of accomplishments.

By July your Alma Mater will have "looked backward" over a quarter-century of progress under the guiding hand and able leadership of its President, and countless advances in medical education, in hospital administration and techniques will have been paraded in review to prove statements of progress at the Medical College of Virginia, all of which have been to your personal advantage during the past four years.

Your task, then, is to use the training, the advantages and the opportunities which have been yours, for a complete fulfillment of the oath which you take at graduation, and, to keep currently informed on all future advances in the healing arts, avail yourselves of the further opportunities offered by M.C.V. for graduate study, refresher courses, seminars, symposiums, lectures, so that you may earn a high score when, a half-century hence, you will be called to account for your personal contributions to the "half-century of progress".

As you receive your diploma, attesting to the seal of approval given you by M.C.V., you will at once become a definite part of the annually increasing great body of Alumni of the College, without which no school can advance or progress. Again, a challenge is yours . . . to make that school the greatest of its kind, by actively aligning yourself with the program of the Alumni Association (and the College which it serves), of which you become a member upon graduation, and participating in all its activities—"To Make a Great Institution Greater".

Every member of the Alumni Association extends to each of you most sincere and hearty congratulations upon the successful completion of your course at the Medical College of Virginia and sincerely wishes for you a future replete in opportunities and success in abundance, with a full measure of happiness and pleasure in your work and in your personal pursuits.

who was then State Y.M.C.A. Secretary, was influential in helping a group to get it started. The first secretary was Mr. Phil
B. Trigg, who served until 1920, when he was succeeded by Mr. Walter C. Cralle. The latter served for one year and was followed by Mr. Earl T. Sullenger, who remained for the next two years. In September, 1923, our present secretary, Mr. Jonah L. Larrick, was appointed, and has guided the activities of the association in a most able and efficient manner for the past twenty-seven years.

The association, as an independent corporation with twelve directors, was granted a charter on April 16, 1918. One of its undertakings was the operation of a cafeteria and dormitory for seventy students. At first the budget had to be raised by subscriptions, and the association had to justify its existence. A student membership in the Central "Y" at about half the cost to others, taking over the cost of athletics by the student athletic association in 1923, and aid rendered by the Richmond Community Chest, all helped to ease the heavy burden carried at first. In December, 1928, the association became a branch of the Richmond
"Y", and allowed its charter to lapse.

Mr. Larrick, as executive secretary, has rendered invaluable and unstinting service in behalf of student activities and athletics for over a quarter of a century, and the Medical College Branch has been indeed fortunate in having such a willing, enthusiastic, and capable coordinator of student affairs.
The Athletic Association was organized in 1923, and now provides activities for all of the schools of M.C.V.

The aim of the Athletic Association is to create a means of relaxation, exercise and diversion, and to supply the spirit of competition which accompanies any sports event. A complete schedule of inter-collegiate play is maintained for men's basketball and baseball, and girls' basketball. The Athletic Association also supervises intramural basketball, softball, and ping-pong, and has made available student golf memberships at the Glenwood Country Club.

In 1924, Dr. William H. Parker became Graduate Manager, a position which he still holds, and under his able leadership and guidance the Association has made continual progress. Much of the success attained during the past twenty-seven years must be attributed to the efforts of an enthusiastic leader and friend, Jonah L. Larrick, who has worked tirelessly in student interests of all types. The Association has given their whole-hearted backing to the soon-hoped-for building of a Student Field House and Athletic Building to be erected in the Campus area.
With Coach Jack Sanford at the helm this year the Medicos hung up a record of nine victories and seven defeats. However, the brand of basketball played was much better than the record indicates. The team lost some close ones which were heart breakers. The opener of the season was lost to Lynchburg in an overtime by three points and the same team came back later in the season to take a six-point overtime decision. The Medicos dropped two decisions to their traditional rivals Hampden-Sydney, with the first game giving the Bengals the score of their careers. Another loss came at the hand of the Yellow Jackets of Randolph-Macon. This also was a four-point decision decided in an overtime.

Highlight of the season was a record win of 136-15 over Smithideal-Massey Business College. Other highlights of the season were two wins over a local pro team, the Richmond Royals, and a 84-54 rout of Apprentice School.

Newcomer Clarence Hicks, a transfer from West Virginia University, was the sparkplug of the team until he injured his knee late in the season. Harold Miller then shouldered the scoring burden for the Medicos. Ace Earl Allara was troubled with an ankle injury most of the season and wasn’t quite up to par this year. Bernard Dolsey, a new addition to the team, played outstanding ball all year and served as a steadying influence on the floor. There were others also who played key parts. Bill Helsabeck, Johnny Stoneburner, John Darden, Roland Elliott and Bill Otterman were standouts all year. Freshmen Charlie Webber and Jim Gruber gave some mighty fine exhibitions of ball handling.

High scorer for the year was Harold Miller with 213 points in fifteen games followed closely by Clarence Hicks with 203 points in twelve games. The team had a very successful year at the foul line making good of 58.35 per cent of their charity tosses.

The Medical College will sorely miss Earl Allara, Bill Helsabeck and John Stoneburner who will be lost through graduation. These boys have played stellar ball for four years at M.C.V.

WITH their new coach Jake Pearce, the Medicos are enjoying a successful season on the diamond. With a starting line-up of Bob Layman behind the plate, Wally Rowe on first, Phil Trimmer on second, Bill Helsabeck on short, Bobby Clyburn on third, George Surber in left, Marley Tomey in center, Warren Crouch in right and Bill McAllister alternating in the infield and the outfield, they have beaten such teams as SMU, Apprentice and Hampden-Sydney. The win over H. S. was one of the state's biggest upsets. The Medicos poured it on and came out with a 12-2 victory.

The Medicos have dropped some close ones too. These include losses by one run to Apprentice and R. P. I. with the loss to the latter going into extra innings.

The Hampden-Sydney game marked the comeback of Marvin "Henry" Aldridge who twirled excellent ball that day. Other hurlers include Pearce, Rudy Gurley and R. D. Rowe.

The Medicos are looking forward to the last part of the season with relish and hope to win the remainder of the games. So here's wishing them the best of luck.

INTRAMURAL LEAGUE FINAL STANDINGS

Frazier and others. The Juniors won all seven league games but were defeated in the all-star game in an overtime affair which was settled by a set shot by Bernard "Bootsie" Dolsey of the Freshman Dents. Close contender to the Juniors were the Senior Meds who lost only two games.

"We're gonna win the trophy," was the slogan of the M.C.V. Nurses' Basketball Team. Dubbed with a new nickname, "The Medicettes," they were entered in the Girls' Recreation League sponsored by the City Department of Recreation. Miss Ruth Latimer, of the School of Physical Medicine, started the year off as coach, but due to teaching assignments was not able to carry on. Bill McAllister, Junior Pharmacy student, took over in January for the rest of the season. Beverly Lackey and Pat Dailey were chosen as team captain and business manager, respectively.

With last year's veterans, Jenifer Ganakis, Nancy Swecker, Polly Bellamy, Thelma Mendez, Joanna Taylor and Mickey Hawthorne plus Lackey and Dailey, the team proceeded to mop up the league. Game after game went on the record books as wins for "The Medicettes." Jean Chappell, a newcomer in the pre-clin class was a pleasant addition to the team. She averaged approximately seventeen points per game which was tops in the league. This, combined with the excellent work of Polly Bellamy, who set up the plays and was a consistent point-getter, and Thelma Mendez, "The Mighty Mite," who consistently got the rebounds, proved to be a mighty big scoring juggernaut.

Down at the other end of the court were the guards who held opponents to such scores as nine, eleven, and fourteen points per game. Led by "Bev" Lackey, the guards had little trouble all year with their opponents. Nancy Swecker, Ginny Ganakis, and Mickey Hawthorne, who was converted from forward to guard played outstanding games all year. Jo Taylor proved to be of great value as a "telegraph man" because of her ability to play both forward and guard. Due credit must also be given to Emily Payne, Jane Bishop and Carolyn Grace who rounded out the team.

"The Medicettes" got through the first half without a defeat and went through the second half until the last game when they were upset by the VIRB team 38-28. This was due to the "flu" which hit the team severely the week before the game. However, "The Medicettes" came back strongly two nights later and capped the League Championship with a sterling 31-25 win over the same team. This gave them the well-earned trophy. However, the next Monday night they faced the strong Grace Hospital Nurses' Team for the Nurses' Championship and came out on top of that one by a score of 46-24. Thus they were crowned Nurses' Champions also.

Now the girls are looking forward to next year. With two of the best players graduating, Mickey Hawthorne and Bev Lackey, it is going to be hard to fill their shoes. However, the girls are hoping for a very highly successful season next year. Mrs. Dora Baxter, the faculty adviser this year, ought to be congratulated for her fine support and faithfulness to the team. Many thanks go to General Tompkins for his fine support also. To quote the Skull and Bones, "Orchids to 'Mac' McAllister for being the bestest coach and the grandest sport we know. For the energy expended pacing the floor and turning grey.—The Medicettes."

THE Medical College of Virginia Chorus, composed of approximately eighty voices under the direction of Dr. Erling S. Hegre, presents two concerts a year. These concerts occur at Christmas and Easter, and are open to the public. In the new plan recently formulated, a secular and religious program will be heard each year.

The organization draws its members from all schools of the college and staff personnel, and selects its own officers and programs. The repertoire of the Chorus has grown to include about fifty selections and several Cantatas.

Dr. Hegre, Associate Professor of Anatomy in the School of Medicine, has had wide experience in various musical fields.

ALPHA OMEGA ALPHA, Honor Medical Society, was founded by William W. Root at the College of Medicine of the University of Illinois in 1902. The Beta Chapter of Virginia, known as the Brown-Sequard Chapter, was organized at the Medical College of Virginia in 1940 under the councilorship of Dr. William B. Porter.

Selection to membership is based upon the qualities of scholarship in the broad sense, which connotes continuous industry, effectiveness in method of work, facility in correlating facts, and an intellectual grasp that permits the application of information to new problems.

A LPHA SIGMA CHI, honorary leadership fraternity, was founded at the Medical College of Virginia in 1937.

The primary purpose of this society is to serve the College and student body, and to recognize these students who have demonstrated the qualities of leadership in the promotion of student activities.

A spirit of fellowship and co-operation is created among the students, with the hope that this will be carried out into their respective professional relationships.
THE GAMMA CHAPTER of Sigma Zeta, National Honorary Scientific Society, was organized at the Medical College of Virginia in 1926. Incorporating all four schools, it recognizes unusual scholarship in the field of science.

Alpha Delta Chapter, a member of Phi Delta Chi, National Fraternity of Pharmacy and Chemistry, was activated at the Medical College of Virginia on March 20, 1925, and was active until February, 1934. Recognizing the need for another fraternity for the School of Pharmacy, a group of ten men re-activated the Alpha Delta Chapter on September 16, 1948, under the leadership of E. J. Hicks.

Phi Delta Chi had eighteen chapters and five graduate chapters located throughout the United States.
PHI DELTA EPSILON, a National Medical Fraternity, was founded at Cornell University in 1904. The Alpha Mu Chapter was established at the Medical College of Virginia in 1924.

There are forty-four chapters and twenty-two graduate clubs in the United States and Canada.

THETA KAPPA PSI, National Medical Fraternity, was founded at the Medical College of Virginia in 1879. Beta, the original chapter, was organized at that time.
THE STUDENT BRANCH of the American Pharmaceutical Association was established at the Medical College of Virginia with some twenty charter members in March, 1942. The organization has continued to increase its numbers, and now has over ninety members.
The Dental Students' Society was organized in its present form in the fall of 1946 with the aim of promoting scholarship and professionalism among the members of the dental student body.

The officers of the Society and two representatives from each class form an Executive Committee whose function it is to deal with matters of importance concerning the program of the Society and student activities of the School of Dentistry.

Membership is open to all students in the School of Dentistry and a student membership in the American Dental Association is encouraged by the Society.

Through the guidance and help of our advisor, Dr. Modjeski, the Society has reached its peak in membership and activities. Two highlights of the Society were the student, "Faculty Take Off," and the annual Dental Students' Society Picnic. These events, sponsored by the Society, provided much gaiety and laughter.
THE MORTAR AND PESTLE CLUB had its beginning during the school year, 1908-09, when a small group of students of the Department of Pharmacy of the University College of Medicine met together and formed a fraternity organization. After the amalgamation, in 1913, of the University College of Medicine and the Medical College of Virginia, the group was known as the Pharmaceutical Association of the Medical College of Virginia. Later the name was changed to the Mortar and Pestle Club. Its prime purpose is to offer programs which, although not covered in the school curricula, give the student an insight of what is ahead of him in his field of endeavor and increase his professional relations in such a way that he will know more about and create an interest in other fields of science and health, to the end that the professional man will become more interested in the student and in pharmacy.
In Appreciation

A Prescription for the Doctor

For the economic health of young doctors we prescribe our Modified Life Protective Plan.

This is the plan for young professional men who at the time of purchase cannot afford to own, on a regular plan, all of the life insurance they need, but who can look forward with reasonable assurance to a good future income.

Ask a Life of Virginia representative to tell you about the many advantages of the Modified Life Plan.

“Don’t Put All Your Eggs in One Basket”

MANY years ago, when a man wished to invest a portion of his earnings in security for the future, there was a proverb which warned him: “Don’t put all your eggs in one basket!” But today that old proverb has been outmoded with the modern facilities of life insurance. Yes, that’s one of the fine things about life insurance—a man can “put all his eggs in one basket!” When he has provided for his own and his family’s financial independence through life insurance, he is certain of the future, and he can feel free to spend the rest of his income for his own and his family’s enjoyment. A Home Beneficial agent has a plan to fit your needs and your budget. Let him help you plan a program of security for yourself and your family.

SOMETHING NEW ABOUT MILK

Something new has been discovered about the nutritious quality of milk.

Science reports today that milk, because of its high protein value, is an important source of niacin, a vitamin required by the body for normal health.

Working on a four-year research project at the University of Wisconsin under the sponsorship of the National Dairy Council, Dr. Elvehjem and his associates point out that niacin's dietary values became known in the search for a cure for pellagra, a skin disease with a history of several thousand fatalities annually, particularly in the southern United States. Patients fed milk improved in health but no one seemed to understand why. More recent research discloses that milk prevents early signs of niacin deficiencies which may occur even in persons who think they are well nourished.

The University of Wisconsin study proved that milk, generally thought to be low in niacin content, acquires an abundance of the much-needed vitamin for health from the protein in the milk, through the process of synthesis in the body.

What Is a Doctor's Investment?

In addition to long years of hard work and preparation, it is estimated by one authority that a doctor’s investment in his profession is approximately $30,000.

The doctor’s investment is unlike that of a business man who can show a tangible business property that can be sold when he wants to retire, or at death, whereas the value of a physician’s business, except for office equipment and furniture, lies solely in his ability to earn during his earning years.

How, then, can a doctor protect his investment for absolute security? The sure way is through ownership of adequate life insurance to safeguard against the two inevitable threats to every man—death or old age. For absolute protection of your investment for future security, buy all the life insurance you can. An Atlantic Life representative will be happy to assist in planning your life insurance estate.
